

True Love is a poem about discovering true love, facing fear, and learning to accept feelings that once felt impossible.