

These Walls is a poem about isolation, inner pain, and the feeling of being trapped within your own mind.