

Trigger Warning: This poem discusses themes of suicide and emotional distress.

“Suicide” is an emotional poem that explores the hidden pain someone may experience when they feel unheard and alone. It also highlights the importance of having supportive people who listen, help you through difficult moments, and remind you that you belong.